Deck-Max™ - ZHU Composite

“are you confused by others? .. Ask an Expert”

ZHU composite is:

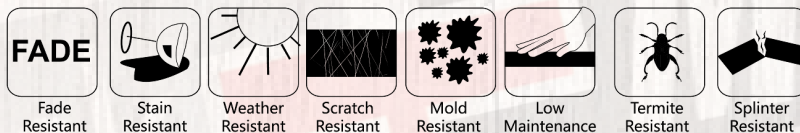

Fully Protected on all sides - Double Capped - wraps over all sides included in the groove.

- Secret Fixings - no nails or screws in the surface
- Solid core construction - Very strong
- Dual Texture (wood grain and contemporary) in the surface of the decking boards.

Material Construction:

Core - Solid core (middle of the board) uses hardwood fibres for greater strength and durability. The core is made from 90% recycled Material. Hardwood fibre H.D.P.E.

Shield - The Shield (capping of the outside of the board) is a patented formula of H.D.P.E. provides colour pattern and deep wood texture creating the warm and beautiful look of wood.

What is the difference from ZHU to other composite decking:

- As They Say "composites are not composites"
- Zhu supplies High Quality at affordable prices
- Zhu is double capped where many others are not capped with HDPE
- Other composites expands a lot in the length (called Tangential expansion)
- Read the warranties and disclaimers to see what others do not cover in the warranty
- Ask them how long they have been in business
